

New Product Spotlight

Beautiful Feet Ultra Slough

Most slough products are developed with a high melting point paraffin that solidifies, balls up and granulizes as the water content of the product dissipates, leaving a grainy rough texture creating the perception of skin removal. Although they provide some benefit to the user, they are not as effective as Beautiful Feet's new Ultra Slough. Beautiful Feet uses a softer, blended paraffin and natural beeswax which will, much like a sponge, absorb (tend to "grab") dead skin layers when it is massaged onto the skin surface. As the Ultra Slough is smoothed on to the skin it blends with the skin and gently removes the dead skin with a soft gentle pulling motion. Ultra Slough with its Natural ingredients & proprietary blend, is more effective & gentler to the skin than products currently used in the industry.

"Softer wax blends have more of a tendency to absorb, (tends to "grab") dead skin into itself, resulting in a much more functional formulation"
